

James Krenov is a rare man. He is a boatbuilder, a cabinetmaker, a carver, a furniture designer and a sensitive, fascinating writer. Museums in Sweden, Norway and Tokyo display his works and he has lectured and given workshops in Sweden, Canada and our country.

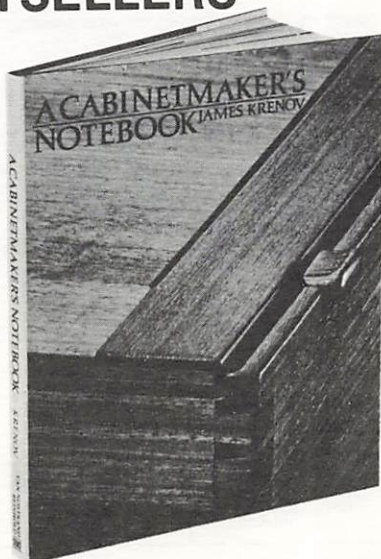

Woodworking can be a lonely labor of love. You couldn't ask for better companions than James Krenov's two books.

CABINETMAKING BESTSELLERS

A CABINETMAKER'S NOTEBOOK - Krenov

James Krenov is clearly a man who knows wood, and this unusually beautiful first book reflects the thoughts on woodworking and design of an uncompromising craftsman. His own work, illustrated with almost 200 color and black-and-white photographs, reveals why his craftsmanship is probably the finest in the world today. A "must" for your library. Hard cover, 132 pages.

THE FINE ART OF CABINETMAKING - Krenov

Krenov's latest is more practical in approach with over 300 photos and detail drawings describing his personal techniques. In his highly personal way, he writes about choosing wood, coopering, dowell-ing, dovetailing, and making his own plane. Even reading Krenov on simple "sanding" is fascinating! Fine points to help you increase your own skills, abound. Hard cover, 224 pages.

HOW ABOUT REALLY SHARP KITCHEN KNIVES!

We are not male chauvinists . . . but the fact is that few women can use an oilstone. The reason is that they cannot consistently stroke the stone at the correct angle on both sides . . . it does take practice.

Now, all she's got to do is slice straight down on the pre-set, space-age ceramic sticks and in a couple of strokes . . . lo and behold . . . a sharp kitchen knife, for a change. (Electric can-opener/sharpeners destroy knives in no time.)

When not in use, the ceramic sticks are stored in the solid walnut block, which can be handsomely wall-mounted. Yes, it can be used for all knives.
